Lenten Season & Lenten ZOOM Book Study

Lent is a season of forty days, not counting Sundays, which begins on Ash Wednesday and ends on Holy Saturday. The forty days represent the time Jesus spent in the wilderness, enduring the temptation of Satan and preparing to begin his ministry.

Lent is a time of repentance, fasting, and preparation for the coming of Easter. It is a time of self-examination and reflection. Today, Christians focus on relationships with God, growing as disciples and extending ourselves, often choosing to give up something or to volunteer and give of ourselves for others.

Join us for our ZOOM LENTEN STUDY from 6-7:30 pm every Thursday evening through Lent. We will start at 6 pm with a conversation while we eat soup together over Zoom, and then we will proceed with the study at 6:30 pm. We will be reading "The Walk: by Adam Hamilton. Look out for weekly updates sent to you over email.

- 2) to live out the conviction that racism is incompatible with Christian teaching;
- 3) and to increase the number of highly vital congregations.

Visit our NIC Shepherding Team website at umcnic.org/shepherdingteam to download the 2019 ACST Strategic Goals Brochure and to learn more about the team. Check out webinars for each of these goals on umcnic.org.

The Anti-Racism Task Force is our conference's mission is to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world by equipping our local churches for ministry and by providing a connection for ministry beyond the local church; all for the glory of God. Our vision is "making and supporting vital Christians in vital congregations that engage with their communities and the world for peace justice and mercy."

Revamped Rainbow Covenant Book

The Conference Board of Global Ministries (CBGM) announces the release of a new conference mission-giving book called "Mission Links: Living the Beatitudes," which replaces the Rainbow Covenant book.

Mission Links is the product of more than 12 months of prayerful, reflective work for the committee, which sought to update and refresh the book's design and content while linking connectional giving to scripture. (Digital-mid-March) Jesus' blessings during his Sermon on the Mount as recounted in Matthew 5, known as the beatitudes, guided the new book's organization and structure.

The projects and ministries described in Mission Links are matched with one or more beatitudes that allow the church to "advance" the cause of Christ and work for the public good. CBGM developed icons representing the beatitude "categories" and tagged each project or ministry with one or more icons to highlight its connection to Jesus' blessings.

While the committee revamped the booklet's look and feel, they note that NIC's commitment to global and local projects and people remains the same. "Hopefully, this new format will draw attention to the appropriate mission the church or individuals want to support." The Rev. Shirley Pulgar-Hughes, Conference Secretary on Global Ministries, is enthusiastic about the new book. ..."

Through months of hard work we have brought into fruition a new format that will enable the achievement of the vision and mission of Global Ministries with greater impact as we allow local churches to navigate successfully through a simpler book format."... Churches may use the new resource in many ways: reflecting on the beatitudes and relating them to connectional giving, "visiting" the country or city where a project or ministry "lives," developing giving themes around the three conference goals, highlighting the impact of UMC members around the world and around the block, and much more.

Living the Beatitudes will be hosted both as a digital magazine and as an accessible PDF soon online. Churches can link their website, social media, and email campaigns to the book.
